WSO Statement of Impartiality: The World Safety Organization, its Directors, Managers, Staff, and others involved in the certification process fully understand the importance of impartiality in undertaking its Certification Activities and is committed to keeping our certification process free from any conflicts of interest. All personnel, internal and external, and committees are required to act impartially. We do not involve ourselves in any activities which might jeopardize impartiality or result in a conflict of interests, nor do any of our sub-contracted agencies or consultants. In fulfilling this commitment, we carefully assess the suitability of proposed members of the board of directors, committee members, staff, or sub contracted entities to ensure they are and remain free of any conflicts of interest. In nominating members to be elected to Council, careful consideration is given to the impact it will have, should the nominee be elected, such that no single interest is predominant. In approving proposed members of other committees that have an interest in our certification programs, careful consideration is given to the impact it will have on impartiality. If a topic is being discussed and a voting member of a committee has an interest that could impact on impartiality, the President or the Chairman of the committee will consider whether it is appropriate to suspend the voting rights of that member for the duration of the topic being discussed. Annually all individuals involved in our certification process are required to update their Conflict of Interest Statement, a testing that they are free from conflict or identifying any possible conflicts which might arise during their involvement with our certification program.

Non-Discrimination Policy: The WSO is committed to providing a certification process that is fair and free from discrimination. All reasonable efforts are made to ensure that WSO examinations are based on job-related knowledge and tasks. In addition, during item-writing training, editorial review of individual items, and exam review situations, documentation on how to prevent bias and stereotyping is provided in either written or verbal form. The WSO endorses the principle of equal opportunity. Eligibility criteria for examination and for certification under the WSO programs are applied equally to all applicants regardless of race, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, ethnicity, veteran status, age, marital status, or disability. The WSO and its test development vendor comply with the Americans with Disabilities Act and strive to ensure that no disabled individual is deprived of the opportunity to take a WSO examination solely by reason of that disability. Special testing arrangements may be made for these individuals. All testing sites will comply with all federal, state, and local laws regarding use of public buildings, ensure accessibility required under the Americans with Disabilities Act, and accommodate applicants with disabilities on an individual basis without additional cost.
