Chief Operations Officer

Welcome to the World Safety Organization, Inc., April Newsletter. I hope this monthly newsletter finds everyone safe and well. Our weather has become more springlike, which I assume is the same of most of you and that improves our outlook on life.

This Newsletter is devoted to the 2022 symposium to be held October 2-5, 2022, in Las Vegas, Nevada. It has been two years since we were last there and two years since we had an annual symposium as a result of the Covid virus. As we resume our annual symposiums, we expect everyone to be excited and for attendance and participation to be high.

Our theme for this year's symposium is "New Horizons In Safety". After Covid we are looking forward to new directions for safety programs. Hopefully, everyone can attend and participate in one of the greatest entertainment cities in the world.

The staff at the World Management Center in Warrensburg, Missouri has been putting the program for the symposium together and has issued a "Call For Papers" for presentations at the Symposium. This is your opportunity to present your research or work-related projects to your friends and associates. Simply go online and fill out the form for presentation of your paper and forward to the WMC. This is a great opportunity to advance professionally.

We are also asking for award nominees. This is your opportunity to nominate some worthy candidate for several different awards that are given on a yearly basis. A World Safety Organization Award is quite an honor among your associates and colleagues. Putting together a nomination takes only a few minutes.

We hope that everyone and their families are safe, and we look forward to a good attendance in Las Vegas!!

As always should you have questions or suggestions for improvement, please let the staff of the WMC know your thoughts.

Thank you for being a member!!
