Good Morning,

We have kicked off our effort to Keep Teen Workers Safe by sharing messaging on workplace safety and health for teens who are employed or will be over the holiday season, as well as employers, parents, teachers, and other caring adults – see OSHA’s Workplace Safety Reminder today.

Help us reach teen workers, employers, parents, teachers, and other caring adults with information about workplace hazards, worker rights, and how to speak-up for safety! Share your own social media posts using examples and imagery on the Keep Teen Workers Safe campaign website, and encourage teens to help spread the word that teen workers have rights by recording and uploading video testimonials here by November 12. All submissions will be considered for use in a national public service announcement (PSA) that will be released in December.

Here are other ways you can support the campaign:

- Customize and share this message across your network with others who may be interested in supporting the campaign!

Follow OSHA on Twitter @OSHA_DOL and on Facebook @DepartmentofLabor as we share posts and information. Like or share our posts!

Follow campaign co-organizer CareerSafe on Twitter (@CareerSafe) and Facebook (@CareerSafe). Like, retweet, or share their posts!

- Review posts tagged with the hashtag #KeepTeenWorkersSafe and participate in the online dialogue!
- Be sure to use these hashtags in your posts: #KeepTeenWorkersSafe and #KeepWorkersSafe.

Can’t post multiple times? Please post this message on Wednesday, October 27, 2021:

We care about the safety and health of teen workers! #KeepTeenWorkersSafe #KeepWorkersSafe

Thank you for your assistance! If you have any questions about the campaign, feel free to reach out to Tina Jones with OSHA at jones.tina@dol.gov or Katie George with CareerSafe at Katie.George@careersafeonline.com.
